The Street Syrup

As you make your way through the bustling streets of Laelith, you can't help but notice the distinct smell of alcohol in the air. Curiosity piqued, you follow your nose and soon find yourself on a narrow street lined with dilapidated buildings. The sound of laughter and chatter fills the air as you approach a small stall tucked away in a corner.

Behind the stall stands a grizzled old man, his face weathered by time and his hands stained with syrup. Bottles of a vibrant pink liquid line the shelves, each one labeled "Si au Punishment". Intrigued, you approach the stall and ask the old man about the syrup.

With a toothless grin, he explains that Si au Punishment is not just any ordinary drink. It is a potent alcohol made from a secret recipe passed down through generations. The key ingredient? Gastroplod reconstitution. The old man chuckles as he recounts the process of collecting the raw material from...
